Polo Grounds, N. Y., Oct. 5.—Mowed down by the underhand slants of Carl Mays, the New York Giants became the first casualties of the annual baseball harvest here this afternoon.

Playing like champions with a dash of spirit in their game the Yankees got the jump on their home town rivals by winning the first game of the World Series, 3 to 0.

Mays, the ace of the American League pitchers was the top card in the Yank's fist. The Giants spent most of the cool crisp afternoon walking up to the plate and then walking back. They were whipped from the time the big Yank pitcher went to the mound and their procession looked like a funeral cortege.

Frisch Only Giant To Star

The Big Stick of the Giants connected safely only five times and four of them were poked out by Frank Frisch, the brilliant young third sacker, who was the whole team in the field and at the bat.

Yanks Start In First

The Yankees started off by getting the jump early. In the first inning the great Bambino Ruth hammered in a run. Miller led off by singling through Rawlins. Peck sacrificed him to second and Babe smashed a single to center and the first run came over.

Score Again In Fifth

Again in the fifth inning the Yankee attack delivered. McNally opened the inning with a two base clout to left field. He reached third on Schang's sacrifice and pulled the unexpected on Phil Douglas by stealing home in front of his eyes. Bob Meusel took a hand in the festivities in the sixth, when the American League champions again showed over a run. Peck, the field general, opened the inning with a single and scored when Meusel slammed to center field for three bases. He failed to touch third, however and was out, but the run counted.

Giants Play Listless Game

In marked contrast to the attitude of the Yanks, the Giants played a listless game, seeming to lose spirit and hope early when they could not handle Mays.

In the fourth inning the lack of punch lost the Giants a chance to score. Frisch singled and stole second. He was sacrificed to third. The

LITTLE DANGER OF RAIL UNION STRIKE CLAIMED

(By United News)

Chicago, Illinois, October 6.—There is remote possibility of a railroad strike, a union official high in the councils of his brotherhood, stated Wednesday.

"In spite of the strike vote now being taken," said this official, "I do not believe there will be a strike. Industrial conditions do not warrant one. In case of a strike, half the union men would become scabs and the other half tramps. This is no time for a strike."

MORE DISTRICT JUDGESHIPS ASKED BY JUSTICE TAFT

(By United News)

Washington, D. C., October 6.—Violations of the Volstead Act have increased Federal Court business only eight per cent, despite a widespread belief that the increase is much greater, Chief Justice Taft of the Supreme Court today told the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Justice Taft appeared before the committee to urge creation of 19 additional district judgeships to relieve congestion in Federal courts throughout the country.

Naples, Italy, October 6.—Guglielmo Marconi, pioneer wireless scientist, has arrived here on his yacht Electra, after conducting numerous electrical experiments in the Mediterranean.

Marconi announced, in his tests carried to completion on this voyage, he had succeeded in increasing the speed of wireless transmission from 20 words a minute to 60.

Storms No Drawback Now

More important, perhaps, than this, is his hint that he is now able to transmit wireless messages regardless of powerful electrical disturbances. Scientists have sought, since the invention of wireless, for some method of defeating such disturbances and if these tests are borne out he has accomplished a tremendous forward stride in radio work.

Marconi had nothing to say regarding his reported receipt of messages from Mars.

Continuous Session Until Thanksgiving—Recess Then Until Dec. 5.

MANY BILLS ARE UP FOR ACTION

(By United News)

Washington, D. C., October 6.—House Leader Mondell, following a conference with President Harding, has announced a definite legislative program for Congress which calls for continuous session until Thanksgiving and recess from then until December 5th, when regular session begins.

Much Work To Be Done

The program, which is in accord with that of Senate leaders, calls for enactment of these measures:

The Revenue bill, passed by the House, now pending in the Senate.

The Permanent Tariff bill, passed by the House and now before the Senate Finance Committee.

The Railroad Refunding bill, passed by the House and now pending in the Senate.

The Anti-Beer bill, finally approved by the House, but lacking Senate approval on the conference report.

The Good Roads bill, now in the conference.

The measure extending Emergency Tariff which expires automatically November 27th.

The Borah Debt Refunding bill, considered by the Senate Finance Committee, but not passed in either chamber.

The bill providing for re-apportionment of the membership of the House in accordance with the 1920

Wednesday.

Crow was said to have been an innocent bystander, one of the two or three thousand persons who went to Lorena to witness the parade.

"OPEN MINDS" ARE CAUSE OF JAM IN TAX BILL MUDDLE

President's Intervention May Be Necessary To Get Action.

SALES TAX MAKES MORE TROUBLE

Absence of Definite Purpose Holds Back Bill Passage.

(By United News)

Washington, D. C., October 6.—President Harding may find it necessary to intervene to straighten out the taxmuddle in Congress and to bring executive influence to bear in favor of early enactment of the Revenue Bill. The Senate has made little progress in its consideration of the measure. Despite pressure for early enactment, the delays imposed have had the effect of clogging the entire legislative machinery.

Jam Increasing

The jam exhibits no sign of weakening, but rather increases from day to day. One principal reason for this is growing sentiment in favor of the Sales Tax Substitute proposed by Senator Smoot, of Utah, which is causing concern to leaders.

Even Penrose, chairman of the Finance Committee, professes to have an "open mind" on the subject while at the same time he expresses belief that innovations should be resisted.

Harding is also reported to be open minded. The result is absence of a definite purpose which would force action on the bill.

J. S. FISHER TO ADDRESS ROTARY-COMMERCIAL CLUB

Rotarians and Commercialites will likely fast today in preparation for the banquet to be held at The Dimeling this evening at eight o'clock when the Clearfield Rotary Club will listen to an address by Hon. John S. Fisher, State Commissioner of Banking, one of Governor Sprull's ablest cabinet members. A fine program of entertainment has been arranged by the entertainment committee and Manager McGinness, of The Dimeling, has promised to do his best with the viands. The Rotary Club has invited the Commercial Club members to join them on this occasion and they have responded almost to a man. It is expected that there will be a very large attendance at the joint meeting of the two clubs, as a great many members have signified their intention of entertaining guests.

The Rotarians have a reputation for entertaining in a fine style and the younger element making up the Commercial Club will lend no little to the enjoyment with their quartette and singing.

Both clubs expect a full turnout and it will be an evening long to be remembered by those privileged and fortunate enough to attend. Mr. Fisher is a practical business man with a fine fund of information of the kind that all business men are interested in, and particularly the live kind of business men who are always identified with community clubs and organizations.

As a last call, members of either club who will unavoidably be absent this evening, are requested to call

Boy Passed Worthless Checks For $200—Had Only $19 When Caught

(By United News)

William Duckett, the Hillsdale lad who forged and passed checks to the amount of $200 on the merchants of Clearfield and Philipsburg, and who was arrested by State Police at the latter place Tuesday evening, was said to be mentally incompetent by his father, Thomas P. Duckett, who petitioned the Clearfield county courts to have a commission in lunacy appointed to inquire into the young man's mental condition.

Had But 16 Years Old

Duckett, who is but 16 years of age, began his check forging early last week, ostensibly to get money to spend at the carnival. Several of his checks were discovered Sunday, so ago and no later than Tuesday his father had him before Judge Bell on the matter. The father made good the forged checks up to that time and Judge Bell gave the boy a good talking to and he appeared to be sorry for the mess he had got into, and the trouble caused for his parents, who are highly respectable people.

Notwithstanding these facts the boy went to Philipsburg on the 6:28 Pennsylvania train, went into a store there and purchased an overcoat, tendering a forged check for $35 in payment therefor, and receiving $11 in change. He then visited a show house and when he came out of the theatre, was arrested by the State Police, who were on the lookout for him, at the request of Acting Chief Keogh.

Had But $9 When Arrested

When searched he had but $19 in his possession out of the $200 represented by the phoney checks.

Acting on the petition of the father, Judge Bell remanded the young man to jail and appointed a commission consisting of W. A. Hagerity, Esq., Dr. A. D. Cowdick and John M. Chase. This commission will examine the young man at a later date and report their finding to the court, after which proper disposition will be made of the matter.

COUNTY AUTO IN SMASHUP

The people's automobile, occupied and driven by County Commissioners Weimer and Farrell, collided with a roadster driven by Ed. Letzell at the foot of Bigler avenue hill shortly after noon Wednesday. The two cars came together at the curve near the Fullington lime house and, while the occupants of the machines were unhurt, the Letzell car, being much lighter than the county car, was pretty badly smashed up and was left lying at the side of the street. The county car was but slightly damaged.

ODDS AND ENDS
AND THINGS

"By Skinny"

Governor Thomas C. McRae, of Arkansas, has issued a proclamation setting Tuesday, November 1st, as "The Day of Faith" and a legal holiday in his state. The proclamation asks all good citizens to offer prayer on that day for the success of the Disarmament Conference.

"The Day of Faith," as stated in Governor McRae's proclamation, was inspired by the allegory of the same name by Arthur Somers Roche, author. Mr. Roche's allegory is a vision of a universal day of faith, and its theme is "My Neighbor is Perfect."

Governor McRae calls upon all citizens to acknowledge the rights and virtues of their neighbor, whatever be his nation, his race or his creed; and, as evidence of that faith which is within them, at the hour of noon on the Day of Faith reverently to speak the allegorical words, "My Neighbor is Perfect."

The Federal Department of Agriculture says that the phenomenal heat accumulation which has marked weather conditions throughout the Northern Hemisphere the past year has produced remarkable results in the world's crops. The bread crops suffered heavily from the drought and heat all through the growing season, but the continuation of the warm weather has brought them to abundant fruition, so that based on the condition of September 20th, the world will have a wheat crop this year larger by some 157,000,000 bushels than that of last year.

Women, since their recent emancipation the country over, are rapidly coming into their own. Now that they have the vote like the men, they are beginning to act like men. In fact, according to the records of Prohibition Commissioner Haynes' office, one-fourth of the bootlegging in the United States is being done by women.

The average American family is made up of 4.3 persons, according to the 1920 census, instead of the 5 persons to a family as shown ten years ago, when the official count was taken.

Lord Northcliffe, England's greatest newspaper man, in commenting upon the surplus of two million more women than men in Britain, says that the widows are beating the old maids and grabbing the men off right under their noses, so to speak. This is explained by the assertion that men prefer to wed widows, it is said. Widows do not expect too much of men—they have lost the illusions of girlhood that prompt foolish demands upon men; and they know how to create comfortable homes.

An American authority, commenting upon this interesting subject, says: "The widow's game resembles that of the far-famed spider and the fly. Your widow has her parlor into which to invite masculine guests. Her position as married woman and now widow, enables her to ask and to entertain with impunity.

"She has a chance to show how a comfortable and happy home she can make, what a good pal she can be—and that's what they want—these men."

The French Academy of Medicine at Paris has given the tobacco game quite a boost. According to a report issued therefrom by Professor Puntoni, the pipe, cigar and cigarette are the most powerful preventatives of grippe, spinal meningitis, cholera, diphtheria and typhoid. The report says:

"Prolonged tests have proved that these diseases cannot resist the sterilizing influence of tobacco smoke more than five minutes, while if the smoke is inhaled the microbes of ordinary colds are invariably killed before they can enter the nasal passages."

The report recommends the use of a pipe with mild tobacco by women, and urges that all nurses and doctors be compelled to smoke while in attendance on contagious and infectious cases. He didn't say a word about the medical advantages of snuff chewing, however.

BABE RUTH'S SINGLE IN THE FIRST INNING WINS FOR YANKS

By "BILLY" EVANS
(Special To The Progress)

Polo Grounds, New York, October 6.—One badly pitched ball very often decides a most important game. That is just what happened in the opening game of the world's series. Phil Douglas, of the Giants, pitched the ball; Babe Ruth, of the Yankees, hit it.

Ruth didn't come through with a home run, for which he has become justly famous. It was a mere single, but it decided the all important opening clash between the Yankees and the Giants.

Douglas Not Afraid of Ruth
American League pitchers have not the stuff for the batting prowess of Ruth. Evidently "Shuffler" Phil Douglas, of the Giants, had no such respect for the home run king. Throughout the whole game he pitched to Ruth as though he was a very ordinary hitter. Twice he struck out, the Sultan of Swat, but when a hit meant something, Ruth delivered.

Breaks Came Early
The breaks of the game came in the first. It is baseball history that the scoring of the first run in the world's series has much to do with the winning of the opening game. And the series. The Yankees scored the first run because Ruth came through with a basehit with a runner on second. That run gave the Yankees the first break of the series. It gave them a margin on which to work. That one run was enough to win the ball game.

First Hit Doubtful
Miller opened the first inning with a hit through Rawlings. It seemed to me that the ball could have been handled. It was scored as a hit. Peckinbaugh sacrificed Miller to second. His bunt was well placed, and Douglas was forced to hurry to get the decision on first. Then came the first thrill of the series. Ruth, the Home Run King, was up with a man on second. What would Douglas pitch to him in the pinch? In the American League it is customary for the pitcher to work on Ruth in such a situation. It is a slogan that

JITNEY DECISION HANDED DOWN BY JUDGE BELL

Judge Bell handed down opinions and decrees in the injunction suits brought by the United Traction Street Railway Company of DuBois, against Thomas Costello and Joe Piazza, of DuBois.

Both men run jitneys out of DuBois, carrying miners to the different mines near abouts. The Traction Company claimed they had no right to operate in their territory and asked for a temporary injunction restraining them from operating their busses. A hearing was had and Judge Bell's decree is the result. He continues the temporary injunction for twenty days, with the proviso that if the Traction Company does not file a complaint with the Pennsylvania Public Service Company, asking for a ruling from that body on the matter, then the injunction shall be dissolved.

GREENSBURG MACHINIST DROPS A THOUSAND DOLLARS EASY

Spent His Money Uselessly Trying Different Remedies To Rid Himself of Digestive Troubles, But Had No Success Until He Tried Nerve-Worth, and This Soon Ended Indigestion.

"I have spent at least a thousand dollars in an endeavor to rid myself of stomach trouble and indigestion. I have had for 20 years, but got no results. My stomach and digestion, together with extreme nervousness, caused me to lose much valuable time. For the last 11 years I have been a machinist foreman of the Kelly-Jones Co. of Greensburg, and my time was worth money. I was compelled to lay off 10 weeks not long ago. Doctors said they could give me only temporary relief. Finally I saw Nerve-Worth advertised, and determined to try it, and I am glad to say that now after using only part of a bottle, I am no longer troubled with indigestion or nervousness and I have gained weight instead of losing it, as

"Ruth must be forced to hit a bad ball." Douglas, who had a fine spit ball and a fast, breaking curve, decided to tempt Ruth. His first offering was a fast ball letter high through the heart of the plate. Ruth didn't overlook the first one but took a healthy swing, a line single to center resulting, on which Miller scored. That run was enough to decide the game as the Giants were unable to score on Mays. Douglas had ignored Ruth's reputation. He had tempted him with a fast ball down the groove. That run gave the Yankees a certain confidence which the other team lacked. It placed the Giants on the defensive.

Mays Had Perfect Control
Aside from that now memorable single made by Ruth, the pitching of Carl Mays and the work of Mike McNally sealed the opener. Mays had perfect control of his peculiar underhand ball and aside from Frankie Frisch, who made four hits, the Giants were helpless. Mays was master of the situation throughout and was never in trouble.

It wouldn't surprise me if Mays scored a victory on three starts. Mike McNally, who played third for the Yanks instead of Baker, was also one of the heroes. McNally, supposed to be a very ordinary hitter, made two of the Yankees' hits. In the fifth he doubled, was sacrificed to third by Schang and then pulled the big thrill of the game with a clean steal of home.

This steal of home and Mays' great pitching was too much for the Giants. I look for Nehf to start for the Giants in the second clash and Hoyt to go for the Yankees. Hoyt is at the top of his game and is sure to be hard to beat.

WIRE TROUBLE HOLDS UP LOCAL SCORES OF GAME

Messrs. Lester and Shillenn, who have had the electric scoreboard installed at the Globe Theatre for the purpose of giving Clearfield baseball fans the World's Series dope as it reels from the bats of the players on the two New York teams, were handicapped Wednesday by serious wire difficulty, which also interfered with news of the game all through this section. This difficulty has been overcome for today's game and the balance of the series.

Therefore, if you want to enjoy the game in comfort today and the remainder of the week, drop into the Globe and see it play by play.

The admission fee will be 55c, including war tax, and as the expenses run up to $28 or $30 per day, a good turn out of fans must be present each day to warrant the service.

Carl Mays Proved Too Strong For Giants great Kelly, champ slugger of the National League, strode to the bat and fanned. Irish Meusel, his running mate, killed the chance by grounding out weakly to Peck.

Failed Again in Sixth
Frisch gave his mates another chance in the sixth inning, when the artillery failed in the pinch. With two down the Giant star tripped to left, but was stranded there when Mays pulled the blinders over Young's eyes and got him on an easy chance to Peck.

Phil Douglas the "shuffler," pitched a good game, but he could not hold the Huggins men in the tight places. He was finally taken out in the eighth in favor of a pinchhitter and Jess Barnes went in.

Father's and Mother's Attention!

Have you a dull or backward child? Do you now that 60 per cent of such children have weak eyesight or defective vision? Therefore they only see one-half of what is going on. So, naturally, they are only one-half as bright as their school-mates.

Bring them to us. We can detect and correct such faults. Give your child an even start in his or her class. NO DROPS used; NO WAITING; NO DELAYS. We grind and make our own glasses, only when needed.

righted act, but his punch was a great help to the Yanks. His single in the first inning, really won the game, as it drove in the run that seemed to break the heart of the Giants. He was walked in the fourth and ended the afternoon by striking out twice.

Instead he merely laughed at Umpire Rigler, seeming to be satisfied with his afternoon's work.

Mike McNally played the spectacular game at third that put the great Frank Baker on the bench. He got a single, double, stole two bases, including a pillar of home. He didn't get a single chance in the field.

Crowd Was Small
The crowd was a great disappointment, it being regarded as one of the smallest and quietest opening day crowds in the history of a series. Thousands of open seats yawned in the upper stands and the bleachers were not packed. It was estimated less than 25,000 saw the game. The crowd was distinctly with the Yanks.

ANOTHER PROHIBITION "ENFORCEMENT" SCANDAL

(Pittsburgh Press)

Prohibition "enforcement" in Pennsylvania has been such a farce and given rise to so many scandals that the public is hardly surprised by another. The latest one is the discovery that the liquor permits which have been issued by State Senator William C. McConnell, prohibition commissioner (with jurisdiction over the state) and Assemblyman Samuel Wolf, aid in charge of the Pittsburgh district, are void. There does not appear to be any reasonable doubt as to the validity of the objections which have been raised to the acts of these two officials. Section 6 of Article 2 of the state constitution says:

"No senator or representative shall, during the time for which he shall have been elected, be appointed to any civil office under this commonwealth, and no member of congress or other person holding office (except of attorney-at-law or in the militia) under the United States or this commonwealth shall be a member of either house during his continuance in office."

Language could not be plainer. It is true that on its face it disqualifies McConnell and Wolf not as federal prohibition enforcers but as state assemblymen. They are federal officers, and here in the state constitution is a section forbidding a federal officer to be an assemblyman. But it is a basic principle of federal law to give full validity to state law where there is no conflict between the two, and this principle raises a presumption of legal incompatibility between the office of prohibition enforcer and the office of state assemblyman which could only have been removed in the present cases by the resignations of McConnell and Wolf from the state legislature before they accepted the federal appointments.

If, as the dregs claim to be able to prove numerous permits for whiskey withdrawals have been issued by the two officials, it seems certain that the legality of the permits will be attacked in court. Perhaps a court review of the administration of the "enforcement" office in Western Pennsylvania would be of great public advantage, let the decision as to the technical question involved be what it will.

THE LAUNDRY

The public laundry is inevitable, necessary, desirable, and has come to stay. With the growth in number and business of the public laundry has become a study by the associations of laundry owners of the science of laundering. The laundry subjects the fabrics to no rougher usage than the home laundress does and usually gets the fabrics cleaner.

The user injures many fabrics so that a trip to the laundry merely serves to bring out the injury. Sticking pins into cloth usually breaks a few fibers, which later give way during washing and start a hole. Catching a shirt waist on a rough place in the furniture, or bed linen on the corner of a spring, will cause a small tear or weaken a few fibers, which even gentle laundering will break and use as the start of a tear or a hole. Cutting bread on the tablecloth or drawing a knife edge or fork prongs over the tablecloth and napkins causes almost invisible injuries which the laundry is sure to make visible.

Occasionally the fabric itself is at fault. The thread in one direction may be excellent, but in the "filling" may be paper or other inferior material. Knotted threads in the second quality of fabrics cause trouble as the knots stand out and get rough treatment in use or in ironing, tearing the thread and starting a fault which subsequent laundering accentuates. Cloth may be improperly dyed so that the chemicals used or the process of dyeing weakens the cloth appreciably.

The laundryman causes damage in some cases, but usually the fault is with the fabric or with the use to which it has been subjected.

The railroad men, it is said, are voting in favor of a strike. But in the end the union leaders, who have more knowledge of the situation, will decide whether there is to be a strike or not, and when they have secured the best terms that it seems possible to get, they will advise the men to remain at work. Most any time is a poor time to strike, but this is a particularly bad time. When the railroad situation is cleared up industrial conditions will improve generally, and if then the railroad men feel that they are not getting a fair wage, they can make a demand for a raise with better prospects of success. A general railroad strike at this time would set the country back a long way in its return to prosperity.—Punxy Spirit.

CLEARFIELD MUSICAL CLUB BEGINS CAMPAIGN TO SECURE MEMBERS

Some twelve months ago a number of Clearfield ladies, interested in the further advancement of the musical and dramatic arts in this community, got together and, after discussing the possibilities along these lines for our town, organized the Clearfield Musical Club. Following the organization opportunity was given every woman musically inclined to affiliate with the club.

Musical Advancement Sought
The expressed object of the club was "the musical improvement of its members and the advancement in and promotion of the culture of musical and dramatic art in Clearfield." As was to be expected when the fact of the organization of the club with such an object became known, there was a general response among the ladies of the town and the Clearfield Musical Club soon possessed a membership of more than one hundred enthusiasts, each and every one of whom have labored diligently the past year to accomplish in fullest measure what they set out to do at the inception of their organization. How well they have succeeded is evidenced by the added general interest here in things musical, and the members of the Clearfield Musical Club have every reason to be proud of their first year's work.

In order to create or excite interest in the better things musical and dramatic and for the purpose of raising funds for the use of the organization in the direction intended, two exceptionally high class entertainments were arranged for. The first was the Allen-Fabiani Concert Company, which gave a most delightful concert at the High School Auditorium, and a few months later the incomparable Fritz Kreisler delighted a capacity audience at the Driggs Theatre.

No Effort Spared
The response to these efforts of the Musical Club spurred the members to renewed efforts and their accomplishments during the short year of the Club's existence has been of incalculable benefit to our community and will continue to bear good fruit in the years to come.

In addition to the funds realized from their concerts each member paid a membership fee of $1.50, and the funds thus secured have been and will be used solely in the furtherance of the musical education of the club members and of the musical public of Clearfield generally.

In passing it might be well to say also that the ladies were as able financiers as they are cultured musicians and have a handsome balance in their treasury at the present time to assist in furthering the enlarged program in preparation for the coming year.

Predict Great Future For Club

The Musical Club sees a great future before it, and like very many of the worth-while movements in every community, while the membership of the Clearfield Musical Club during its first year was composed exclusively of women, it is the purpose now to open the membership rolls to the men, and all Clearfielders musically inclined or interested in the objects set forth as the aim of this organization, are requested, nay urged, to affiliate with the Clearfield Musical Club. There is work enough for all, and all with the welfare of their home community at heart should consider it a privilege to be allowed to affiliate with this club.

The Progress is informed it is also the intention of the club to organize a chorus of men and women under the direction of H. Clark Thayer, which will be trained during the winter and furnish opportunity to develop the talent Clearfield possesses.

The membership rolls are now open for the new year and old and new members are asked to affiliate themselves with the club for the coming year. The fee for active membership is $1.50, and associate membership, $2.00.

This organization means much to Clearfield; let us all assist in making it what it should be.

HUNTERS FIX UP CAMPS

Shanty men and hunters have put in most of their time this week out on the mountains putting hunting camps in condition for occupancy when the deer season comes in. Considerable destruction was manifest in and around the buildings during the summer months by parties who have no interest in their up-keep at all, and destroy other men's property through mere jealousy and carelessness. In many cases all window lights were broken and doors smashed in or off the hinges.

Principal Grant Norris has been chosen as one of the instructors at the Blair County Teachers' Institute, beginning Monday, October 24. Professor Norris will deliver three lectures before this body of teachers.

The teachers were made happy this week by the appearance of Frank Mullin, Secretary of the Board, with the monthly pay envelopes.

The Curwensville schools are overcrowded, and what are we going to do about it? Does Curwensville deserve as good housing facilities and as good opportunities from class room work as other boroughs?

The High School football team will meet the Tyrone football team at Tyrone next Saturday. A large delegation is planning to cross the mountains on that day. May our boys do themselves credit, whether they win or lose.

SNAKES-AND-A NEWSPAPERMAN LAMPED 'EM

Little Snakes and Big Snakes—Fat Ones and Lean Ones.

NOTHING SAID OF PINK ONES

Despite the fact that "the first is on the pumpkin and the fodder's in the shock," and the season for such tales is rapidly reaching the wane and yellow leaf period, Lew Laporte, the versatile correspondent for The Progress at Curwensville, horns in and makes a bid for fame by coming to the front today with a real, live, though somewhat belated, snake story.

Snakes—And More Snakes—Also Some Snakelets

According to Laporte's tale, the most lurid chapters of which the Religious Editor was forced to can, he motored out to the old Bailey stone quarries with Rube Robinson on Tuesday to watch the workmen hew huge building blocks out of the sandstone deposits at that operation. While inspecting the workings a blast was set off, and when the workmen returned to the quarry to note the result of the explosion, Laporte says they found they had unearthed a regular colony of rattlesnakes. It appears, according to the tale, that the rattlers had already banded or banded together for their long hibernating nap throughout the winter and were wound together in a ball the size of a fifty-pound powder keg, and had crawled down through the crevices in the rock until they had reached what they considered their winter's abiding place, only to be exposed to the chilling winds of October and have their home broken up by the machinations of man.

When hurled from their nest in the rocks the snakes began to squirm about and unwind themselves from the mess, but before they were able to move about much the quarry-men and their two visitors, securing convenient clubs, jumped into the pit and after a short battle had just twenty rattlers of varying size lying dead upon the rocks. Not a single one escaped, the intrepid news-gatherer killing no less than nine with his own strong right arm. Laporte vouches for the truth of the tale and says he can not only prove it by Rube, but show any doubting Thomas the very quarry where they killed them.

BOARD OF HEALTH ARRANGES CLEANUP OF ALL RUBBISH

The Board of Health wishes to announce that they have arranged with Blair Adams to haul away the waste and rubbish from about the town as a sanitary measure, and for the purpose of keeping the town cleaned up. Mr. Adams will arrange a schedule and cover the different Wards in town. For this service a nominal or fair charge will be made and citizens generally should appreciate the situation by co-operating with the health authorities.

Some time ago the Board of Health arranged for a clean-up day and paid for hauling the rubbish away. This is not satisfactory, because a general clean-up should be made at least monthly. It could not be regarded as very sanitary to allow waste and rubbish to gather for twelve months before being hauled away. Hence the present arrangement.

Of course, this will not affect those in position to haul away or dispose of their own waste and rubbish, but all others should take advantage of this opportunity to put their premises in order at least once a month. The expense will be

Vegetable Compound

Sunnyside, Ky.—"I suffered for more than two years with my back and nervousness, and was not able to help my mother do the housework. I took treatment from two doctors and they did not do me any good. Mother saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the paper and I took about ten bottles. It has done me a great deal of good. I weigh 135 pounds and am in good health. I will gladly recommend Vegetable Compound to anyone who suffers with the troubles which I had, and you are welcome to publish my testimonial."—VELMER HENDRICK, Route 1, Sunnyside, Ky.

To many American girls life is often a heavy drag in consequence of illness, and every mother should heed the first manifestations, such as cramps, backaches, headaches and nervousness. Mrs. Hendrick did for her daughter, and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial. For over forty years this old-fashioned root and herb medicine has been relieving women of just such troubles.

Bronchial Asthma

Simple Home Treatment Makes Breathing Easy

Just because you start the day tired, lifeless, worn-out from loss of rest and the difficult breathing of miserable Asthma—do not think you have to stay this way long.

Be strong and well, breathe clearly and easily again by using this simple treatment known as Oxidaze, the prescription of a Worcester, Mass., physician.

For any form of Asthma where the bronchial tubes are irritated, the breathing short and difficult, its healing, relieving action is really wonderful. Sufferers who can't breathe at night and who gasp for a good clear breath, will appreciate the relief and comfort Oxidaze gives.

Oxidaze is a tablet made from essential oils which, when the patient dissolves in the mouth, almost immediately soothes the irritation, clears out the choked up air passages and enables the sufferer to breathe easily and get a real comfortable night's sleep.

It is sold by all leading druggists who agree to refund full purchase price of the first package to any sufferer who does not obtain satisfactory relief. Asthmatic sufferers should give Oxidaze a trial. It is harmless and inexpensive.

High Amount of
Butter Fat Assures
Quality

When we get in touch with producer of milk the first thing that is done with the first shipment of milk is to put it through the Babcock test to determine the amount of butter fat the milk contains.

If the proper percentage of butter fat is not there the farmer is told that he will either have to bring his milk up to our standard or we cannot continue to take his milk.

This assures you of getting milk that has a high percentage of butter fat which is the portion of milk that carries the highest amount of nutriment.

—this service offers it to every woman

Investigation in a large number of families has brought out the fact that the average family washing handled at home takes about a day and a half—this includes both washing and ironing.

And, of course, this applies to homes where laundresses are employed as well as to those without them, for laundresses must have supervision.

If you could gain relief from all this at a moderate cost, and have more time for pleasant duties, wouldn't it interest you?

Our Family Laundry service offers you that opportunity. We take all your family bundle, wash everything in pure soft water, and rich lather suds, and nicely iron all the flat work. Pieces that need it, we starch. We leave for you only the ironing of the lighter pieces.

We assume practically all of the really heavy work—work that at home takes about ten hours of the hardest kind of labor—and give you ten hours more a week for the children, and to make home pleasanter.

None of the drudgery; none of the exposure to bad weather; none of the troublesome hunting for and bickering with laundresses—yet the cost is less than that of a washwoman.

Once you've given this service a trial we know you will appreciate it. Phone us, and we will have our representative call for your bundle.
